BERLIN RESENTS TONE OF NOTE, BUT TENSION IS PAST

Crisis Regarded as Being Over for Present, and Situation Closed.

NO REPLY TO BE MADE

Declared That Germany Did Not Intend to Attach Conditions to Its Concessions.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

A staff correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World. (Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

BERLIN, May 10. (via Amsterdam and London.) May 11.—President Wilson's prompt reply to the German note was delivered by Ambassador Gerard personally to Herr von Jagow at 1 o'clock today. The Ambassador and the Foreign Secretary talked over it for half an hour.

Germany will not answer or formally acknowledge its receipt. It is not understood that any answer is required, in view of the tone of the note. With the admission and acceptance of responsibility for the attack on the Sussex, and the immediate crisis created by President Wilson's note is considered here as being ended.

The public already is aware of the contents of the note from a Reuters text published in the press this morning. At the same time Germany's reaction of blame in the Sussex case was made known through the press.

U. S. Note to Be Ignored.

The tone of the American note is deeply resented in many quarters, but it will be ignored. The note is regarded as being unnecessarily and deliberately sharp and brusque, to a point almost of being offensive to the sense of pride of a nation.

It is declared that the tone manifested in President Wilson's last two notes is not such as generally is used by one great nation to another, and that it has confirmed in the minds of the German people that President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are hopelessly unjust and one-sided in their standpoint of the European war; intensely prejudiced and antagonistic to Germany, and that the German people can expect neither justice, nor fair treatment from the Washington Government. Not a few see in the last note a tone of "self-constituted supreme judge of the world."

These are the views expressed today in quarters here and low. It is stated that the expectation expressed in German notes that Washington would be consistent and proceed impartially against all warring powers in insisting upon respect for the rights of Americans and the observance of international law, was not a condition of Germany's concession, nor intended to be construed as such, but that the German people did have the moral right in the bitter struggle for existence to expect from the neutral Washington Government the same consideration as accorded England.

British Note Cited.

Stress is laid upon the statement in the British answer to President Wilson's protest on the violation of American rights and the nonobservance of international law in the mail blockade questions, to "methods of warfare have changed," which it is declared, appears to find acceptance with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, but for which no hearing or understanding is found when advanced by Germany.

Newspaper comment up to noon showed restraint and reserve. Despite the deep undercurrent of resentment there is much satisfaction that the crisis is ended and the situation closed. Many who profess to see in President Wilson's two notes a provocative tone, however, are not quite easy in their minds about the future.

Both consolation and satisfaction are found in the bitter disappointment seen in the French and English press over the outcome.

There were some anxious hours yesterday when the first news of the Cymric was received, briefly stating that it had been torpedoed and sunk. There were no details. There was great relief today when dispatches came quoted in the Journal of Commerce that no lives had been lost.

Five lives were lost on the Cymric. No passengers were carried and no American was on board.

BERLIN'S LATEST

NOTE EXPECTED TO

END SUSSEX CASE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—It is indicated at the State Department that the statement in the German note received yesterday that the submarine commander who torpedoed the steamer Sussex had been punished would be accepted and the Sussex case considered closed, except for arranging for the payment of indemnities of the several citizens of the United States who were hurt. There probably will be no attempt to negotiate for the indemnities or for final settlement of the Lusitania and other cases pending, however, until sufficient time has elapsed to indicate how the last American note was received in Berlin and whether the new submarine policy is being lived up to.

Results of an investigation, based on facts supplied by the American Government, the German communication says.

WASTE PAPER IN SCHOOLS

BRINGS ABOUT $200 A WEEK

Sale of Discarded Publications Collected by Pupils Goes to Teachers' Pension Fund.

The high price of waste paper, caused by the general rise recently in price of paper stock, is adding substantially to the funds of the Board of Education and of the Teachers' Benevolent Association. The teachers' fund is being added to from the sale of old newspapers brought to school each day by the children, while the Board of Education gets the proceeds of the sale of the waste paper picked up in the schoolrooms at the close of each day.

Since April 27, the date when the children were asked to begin bringing a newspaper a day to school, the schools have sold 40,000 pounds of old newspapers at an average price of 4 cents a hundred pounds. This would make the value of the paper sold approximately $188. Superintendent of Instruction Blawie said this morning that reports from the schools indicated that at least 40,000 pounds more paper in the schools which has not yet been sold. At this rate the value of the paper collected in about two weeks would be nearly $400.

This money is added to the fund from which the Teachers' Benevolent Association pays $5 a month to teachers retired because of age.

LINEN SHOES VIENNA FASHION

Leather Supplies Are Confiscated for Military Purposes.

VIENNA, May 11.—Linen shoes have become the fashion for spring and summer in Vienna this year on account of the confiscation of the leather supplies for military purposes. The linen shoes are being made in light colors, white, light brown and brown, and a variety of other shades.

They are said to be strong and comfortable and cost but $3.00 a pair, as compared with the $8.00 at which leather shoes are priced.

WHITE WHALE SHOES FOR WOMEN

Beluga Skins Being Used in the New Styles.

SEATTLE, May 11.—Ten tons of skins of the Beluga, or white whale, received from Bering Sea are being shipped from Seattle to Eastern shoe factories to be made into the white shoes now so popular among young women.

The Beluga abounds in Bering Sea and Cook Inlet and the new fashion has attracted the hunt; of the animal. Only the inner skin is used, but it is so thick that four sheets of this leather may be obtained by splitting. Glove factories also are seeking Beluga skins.

VAUGHAN WILL NOT TAKE PLACE ON POLICE BOARD

Virtually Refuses Appointment in Letter; Major Announces He Will Not Insist.

WILLIAMS STILL MEMBER

Resignation Not Yet Accepted, Governor Says, and Will Not Be for Present.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 11.—Gov. Major told newspaper correspondents today that Norman Vaughan had written him a letter in which he practically declined to accept appointment as Police Commissioner of St. Louis because of the publication in the newspapers of the fact that he had been convicted of manslaughter for the killing of Hayden Leight.

The Governor said the resignation of Commissioner Charles P. Williams had not been accepted and that the situation would remain as it is at present. "I think the chances are 100 to 1 that Mr. Vaughan will not accept," Gov. Major said. "In fact, I have a letter from him, written after the publication of the facts in connection with the manslaughter case, in which Mr. Vaughan expressed the fear that the publicity given the matter might affect his efficiency in the Police Department, and I have decided to let the matter rest where it is. The resignation of Commissioner Williams is on my desk, but has not been accepted. Even if he should refuse to act, there are four commissioners left who are able to take care of the work."

Gov. Major reiterated the statement which he made to a Post-Dispatch reporter in St. Louis Tuesday night, that he did not know of Vaughan's conviction for manslaughter when he announced that he would appoint him to the Police Board.

"I had an idea—I don't know where I got it," said the Governor, "that Vaughan had killed a man years ago, but the fact that he had been indicted and convicted was news to me when published in the newspapers."

That the Governor adheres to his policy of appointing "original" men to fill the vacant places on the Police Board, was indicated by his interview on the Vaughan appointment, when he said:

"When I learned of Williams' resignation I began casting about among my friends in St. Louis for a suitable man to fill the vacant place. I remembered Vaughan's able service as a member of the Panama Exposition Commission and I decided to surprise him with the appointment."

Gov. Major also said Williams wanted to resign from the Police Board two years ago, but agreed to continue in the office at the Governor's personal solicitation.

Vaughan Tells What He Wrote to Governor in His Letter.

Vaughan told a Post-Dispatch reporter he had written a letter to the Governor, in which he said he did not care to take the place if the publishing of a misstatement as to his record in the Post-Dispatch would embarrass his administration. The Post-Dispatch in one edition erroneously said that Vaughan was serving time in the penitentiary when pardoned by Gov. Folger, who was at liberty under an appeal and never entered the penitentiary.

PANAMA CANAL SUBMARINE BASES ASKED FOR AT ONCE

Congress Requested to Appropriate $2,955,306, to Be Available Immediately.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Secretaries Daniels and Baker and the Panama Canal authorities have joined in a recommendation to Congress for the appropriation of $2,955,306 for submarine bases at the Panama Canal, to be immediately available.

"The Secretary of the Navy thinks it most important that these submarine bases be established at the earliest practicable date," Secretary Baker advised the House.

DR. LIEBKNECHT IS DENIED POSTPONEMENT OF HIS TRIAL

Reichstag Committee Says Socialist Arranged Demonstration When Crowd Cried "Down With Kaiser."

BERLIN, via London, May 11.—The Business Committee of the Reichstag has declined to consider an urgent motion by the Socialists to postpone the trial of Dr. Karl Liebknecht and to suspend his arrest until after the adjournment of the Reichstag. The Socialists claimed parliamentary immunity for Dr. Liebknecht.

Herr von Payer, the reporter of the committee, read official documents in which Dr. Liebknecht admitted participation in a peace demonstration, but denied that he was guilty of treason. Herr von Payer gave the following account of the arrest:

"On May 1, Dr. Liebknecht participated in a peace demonstration in Potsdamer Platz. The population became excited and shouted: 'Down with the war! Down with the Kaiser!'"

"Dr. Liebknecht had arranged the entire demonstration through his pamphlets. When arrested he resisted violently, but at last he was knocked down and overpowered by the police. He was then taken to the police station, where he was held until his first choice is, on whom they are nearly unanimous."

It appeared from what Perkins and others said that the Progressives will mark time until the Republicans nominate. It may be that the nominations will be made simultaneously after an agreement is reached.

Some Objection to Hughes.

In the discussion objections were raised to Hughes, based partly on the belief that in keeping still he is playing politics and hurting the Colonel's chances while privately asserting he favors Roosevelt.

The Executive Committee met in the Hotel Manhattan and there Col. Roosevelt joined the party. He impressed on his leaders that they must keep faith with the rank and file, who look to them to uphold the confidence of the whole of the Republican party, and without that confidence he cannot be elected.

"Justice Hughes has that confidence and he appears to be the man who can unite the Republican party and be elected."

I deplore the necessity of going to the Supreme Court for a candidate, but under the circumstances it appears necessary."

Want Unity Candidate.

Wickersham said the Republicans must nominate someone who can unite all factions, and Hughes appeared to be the only man who could do that.

"If the nomination is tendered to him at Chicago," said Wickersham, "I do not see how he can possibly refuse it. His attitude thus far has been scrupulously correct. A Justice of the Supreme Court cannot appear as a candidate, but he can appear as a Justice of the Supreme Court."

"In this turning point in world history, we will not stick on details. We will lay aside partisanship and prejudices, but we will never surrender the principles for which we stand and have stood and will follow only a leader who is true."

HUGHES APPEARS AS PROGRESSIVES' HOPE FOR UNITY

His Nomination, Bull Moosers Believe, Would Bring Harmony Into Republican Party.

ROOSEVELT FIRST CHOICE

Executive Committee Holds All Day Session—"Peace, but Not at Any Price."

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A majority of the leaders of the Progressive party believe the nomination of Charles E. Hughes by the Republican national convention at Chicago next month, will be endorsed by the Progressives and unite the two parties. If Justice Hughes declares his intention to accept and make a statement of principles acceptable to the Bull Moose men.

This was the unrecorded conclusion of the leaders of the Progressive party who met yesterday at the national headquarters of the Executive Committee of the organization. There was an all-day discussion of candidates and it was apparent that Justice Hughes, except only Col. Roosevelt, was the only man all could agree to support.

Those present were George W. Perkins, William F. Brown, F. Brown, Harold L. Ickes, William H. Childs, Matthew Hale, Horace S. Wilkinson, E. A. Van Valkenberg, E. H. Hooker, Herbert Knox Smith, William Draper Lewis, Clarence P. Dodge, H. P. Gardner and B. F. Harris.

Discussed the Candidates.

George W. Perkins was asked whether candidates had been discussed. "Yes," he replied, "we discussed the relative strength of candidates."

When asked who would be acceptable to the Progressives if Col. Roosevelt were not named by the Republicans, and in reply to a specific question in which Ethel Root's name was mentioned, Perkins said:

"I must decline to answer that question or to discuss candidates. It would complicate matters for me to do so."

"We are going to Chicago 100 strong as are the Republicans. Of course, Col. Roosevelt is our first choice. Talking for myself only, let us suppose he is not acceptable to the Republicans. Then we will ask them who their first choice is, on whom they are nearly unanimous."

If their man is not agreeable to us, the Republicans will be in a position to mention their second choice, and so on. We are willing to be reasonable for the sake of harmony."

It appeared from what Perkins and others said that the Progressives will mark time until the Republicans nominate. It may be that the nominations will be made simultaneously after an agreement is reached.

Mexican railroads and other assistance to be given to Gen. Pershing's column in Mexico.

Preceding this proposition is Obregon's demand that the troops be withdrawn at once. If he stands pat, there is nothing that can prevent a breach of relations except a breakdown on the part of the Americans, which is unthinkable, or the appeal of the Mexican Government to the treaty of 1848, which provides for arbitration before war.

It is the avowed intention of the Americans to force the issue to a conclusion at today's meeting. Gen. Scott has repeatedly said that he will not and cannot discuss the proposition of immediate withdrawal of the American troops in Mexico. Gen. Obregon has said that this is the point on which a decision must be reached. Since the first presentation of the demands, there has been a lot of backing and filling, with proposition and counter proposition, delay and evasion. The wires from the two border cities to the capitals of their countries have carried code messages by the train.

In the meantime it has been announced with frequency that the proposition for an agreement was bright. But also in the meantime Obregon has moved to Chihuahua City a large force of the best troops in his army. He has settled bickering in the South so as to release all available soldiers for duty elsewhere and has started the troops thus released northward.

In the United States the militia of the border states has been called to the colors, all available troops elsewhere in the country hurried southward, the coast artillery guns are being moved to give the army assistance and the decks generally cleared for action.

At today's meeting Gen. Obregon is to submit the counter proposal which was discussed at the last meeting. This is that each country police its own side of the border. It will be denied by the American General, according to their own statements, and the original question will be moved.

If Obregon has been only working for time in which to place his troops, as many believe, he is now at the end of his string. He said last night that he was not seeking time and that the only thing he sought was a solution of the present difficulty with honor to his country, and that the withdrawal of American troops was essential to this.

Obregon Takes Sea From New York.

Obregon's son, who is 8 years old, arrived here today from New York and was taken into Mexico. Francisco Elias brought the boy here. Elias has been the financial manager of the Carranza Government and he is Obregon's best friend and closest adviser.

Official Carranza Organ Says Border Conference Was Satisfactory.

MEXICO CITY, May 11.—El Pueblo, the official Government organ, publishes the following statement by Secretary of Foreign Affairs Aguilar:

"The main conference between Gen. Obregon and Gen. Scott has ended satisfactorily. The forces of both countries will act to avoid in the future such cases as the raid on Columbus, N. M. The conferences will be resumed only to settle the details of the withdrawal of the American troops."

Student Officers at Fort Riley Ordered Graduated at Once.

JUNCTION CITY, Kan., May 11.—The student officers of the army mounted service school at Fort Riley will be graduated at once and will be ordered to the Mexican border for service, probably late today. Immediate graduation was ordered by the War Department, it was announced.

Berlin Resents Tone of Note, but the Tension Is Past

It is shown that the contention originally set up that the explosion of the Sussex was to be traced to a cause other than a German submarine attack cannot be maintained.

E-Boat Commander Hears.

While asserting that the submarine commander thought he was dealing with an enemy warship, Foreign Minister von Jagow admits that he formed his judgment too hurriedly and therefore did not act fully in accordance with the strict instruction which called upon him to exercise particular care.

Officials of the State Department pointed particularly the passage of the note, which said: "In view of these circumstances the German Government frankly admits that it is in the wrong. If it transmits this acknowledgment into action, there will be no longer a German-American issue."

Theodore Wolff, editor in chief of the Tageblatt, devotes the leader to criticizing the tone of President Wilson's last two communications to Germany. Herr Wolff finds that the last note is couched in language "unintentionally supercilious" and adds:

"There is nobody in Germany who does not feel this tone as it can only be felt." Other papers take offense at the tone of the American notes.

Germanists, Berlin's Catholic press, objects to President Wilson's words, "scrupulous execution henceforth," as offensive in form, since, it says, they express doubt that Germany will keep its word.

The German note, signed by Foreign Minister von Jagow and addressed to Ambassador Gerard is dated May 8 and the Ambassador's cablegram transmitting it May 9.

U-BOATS' ORDERS WITHOUT 'STRINGS'

Berlin Sees Little Occasion to Take Up President's Latest Note for Further Discussion.

BERLIN, London, May 11.—With the presentation of the American note to the Foreign office yesterday the German-American submarine controversy is regarded here as settled, and negotiations so far as they concern the past, are virtually closed.

Germany holds that its orders to submarine commanders were issued without "strings" or conditions and

Text of German Note Admitting That U-Boat Torpedoed Sussex

WASHINGTON, May 11.

FOLLOWING is the text of the German note to the United States, in which responsibility for torpedoing the French channel steamer Sussex is admitted:

Supplementing his note of the 4th inst concerning the conduct of the German submarine warfare, the undersigned has the honor to inform his excellency, the American Ambassador, Mr. James W. Gerard, the further investigation made by the German naval authorities concerned, in regard to the French steamship Sussex, on the basis of the American material, has been concluded in the meantime.

In conformity with the result of this investigation, the assumption expressed in the note of the undersigned of the tenth ultimo that the damage to the Sussex was to be traced back to a cause other than the attack of a German submarine cannot be maintained.

Such an assumption had to be arrived at with certainty from the material in the possession of the German Government for two and without further knowledge of the circumstances connected with the torpedoing of the Sussex, the more so as apart from the points enumerated in the note of the tenth ultimo the following facts had come to the attention of the German Government through reliable information:

March 24, 1916, approximately at the same time as the Sussex, an auxiliary warship, left the port of Folkestone with a large transport of British infantry on board; on the same day a transport steamer was torpedoed in the channel; a few minutes preceding the explosion on the Sussex she had passed through a mass of shipwreckage, which created the impression that a ship had sunk at that spot shortly before.

All these facts justified the conclusion that the only case of torpedoing which could be considered under the circumstances had struck the British war vessel, whereas the Sussex had met with an accident in some other way.

However, on the basis of the American material, the German Government cannot withhold its conviction that the ship torpedoed by the German submarine is in fact identical with the Sussex, for, in accordance with this material, the place, the time and the effect of the explosion by which the Sussex was damaged, agree in the essential details with the statements of the German command that its capture was no longer be any question of the possibility of two independent occurrences.

An additional reason is constituted by the fact that officers of the American navy found fragments of an explosive in the hold of the Sussex which are described by them as upon firm ground, as parts of a German torpedo.

Finally, the counter evidence, which was deduced in the note of the tenth ultimo, from the difference in appearance of the vessel described that, therefore, there is little occasion to take up the latest note for further discussion.

Both the Lokal Anzeiger and the Zeitung Am Mittag regard the note as acceptable to Germany. The Zeitung Am Mittag, commenting on the American answer under the caption "Wilson's final word," says that the German-American crisis, with its danger of a rupture, now is a thing of the past. The paper is not altogether pleased with the manner of expression, but says that is unimportant.

"The main thing," it adds, "is that the good relations of the two countries continue, to the disappointment of all Germany's enemies, who doubtless will try now to interpret the answer as hinting that a rupture is only temporarily postponed. The American note, however, does not indicate that the United States understood Germany's 'expectations' in the light of 'conditions' and the reference thereto in the American answer is made merely for the sake of clearness."

"Germans realize that American citizens cannot be required to suffer for English inhumanity and disregard of law."

Points to Sussex Case.

Both the Zeitung Am Mittag points to the Sussex case as an indication that Germany is prepared to act uprightly and assume the consequences whenever it is wrong.

"We gave notice in our answer," it continues, "that we desired to remain calm and that even in the midst of the present caustic bitterness the voice of reason is permitted to be heard. America has acknowledged that in today's note, if it transmits this acknowledgment into action, there will be no longer a German-American issue."

Theodore Wolff, editor in chief of the Tageblatt, devotes the leader to criticizing the tone of President Wilson's last two communications to Germany. Herr Wolff finds that the last note is couched in language "unintentionally supercilious" and adds:

"There is nobody in Germany who does not feel this tone as it can only be felt." Other papers take offense at the tone of the American notes.

Germanists, Berlin's Catholic press, objects to President Wilson's words, "scrupulous execution henceforth," as offensive in form, since, it says, they express doubt that Germany will keep its word.

The German note, signed by Foreign Minister von Jagow and addressed to Ambassador Gerard is dated May 8 and the Ambassador's cablegram transmitting it May 9.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK ON TEN-MILE CAUCASUS FRONT

Constantinople Reports Defeat of Invaders in All-Day Battle Near Mush.

GERMANS ARE REPELLED

Paris War Office Reports Fighting at Vaux Pond North of Verdun.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 11.—In an all-day battle in the Mount Kops sector on the Caucasus front, the Turks drove the Russians out of positions nearly 10 miles in length, capturing more than 300 men and four machine guns, according to today's official announcement by the Turkish War Office.

Mount Kops is in the Most District, between Erzerum and Diabekir.

PARIS, May 11.—German troops made an attack last night on French positions near Vaux Pond, on the Verdun front, east of the Meuse. The War office announces that this attack was repulsed West of the Meuse, the statement says, there was a vigorous artillery action in the region of Avocourt Wood.

The official communication issued last night, said:

"On the left bank of the Meuse, after a violent bombardment, the Germans launched a strong attack on our positions in the neighborhood of Hill 287. This attack was completely repulsed."

"A small offensive action carried out by our troops on the slopes west of Le Mort Hommes permitted us to occupy some parts of a German trench. We took 62 prisoners and captured two machine guns."

Austria Said to Have Resumed Offensive in Albania.

ATHENS, May 11.—Prince Albert of Serbia will remain at Corfu for the present with the general staff of the reorganized Serbian army. Serbia has purchased a second destroyer, as well as a transport for the Serbian fleet.

Sharp fighting has taken place north of Valona, which is apparently a signal that the Austrians have commenced their long threatened offensive against the Italians and Serbians in Albania.

After the evacuation of Durazzo by the Italians in February, the forces which had garrisoned the town fell back on Valona. The Austrians arrived before Valona on March 19, but since that time there has been no report of any activity on either side in Albania.

Berlin Reports Repulse of French Attacks Near Verdun.

BERLIN, May 11, by wireless to Sayville.—Two French attacks on the Verdun front, one delivered near Dead Man Hill and the other southeast of Hill 304, broke down with considerable losses under the German fire, the War Office announced today.

"German aeroplanes dropped bombs on Dunkirk and the railroads near Adinkere."

"On the Verdun front west of the Meuse the French again made an attack near Dead Man Hill in the afternoon and southeast of Hill 304 in the evening. Both attacks broke down in the face of our machine gun and artillery fire with considerable losses to the enemy."

"In Camard Forest a Bavarian patrol captured 64 French soldiers."

"The number of un wounded French soldiers captured since May 4 in the fighting near Hill 304 has reached 53 officers and 1515 men."

"On the Verdun front east of the Meuse there was hand grenade fighting all night in the vicinity of Gallette Wood. A French attack in the wood was repulsed."

"Eastern front: Southeast of the railroad station at Selburg the Germans took by storm 500 yards of enemy position."

U. S. HYDROAEROPLANES FAIL IN TESTS, NAVAL OFFICERS SAY

Three Used at Guantanamo Drill Grounds Reported to Have Been Useless for Bomb-Dropping.

NEW YORK, May 11.—United States navy officers, who have just arrived here with the fleet from Guantanamo, say the hydroaeroplanes used at the Southern drill grounds this winter gave a very poor exhibition. There were three of these craft, all of American manufacture. They could fly, but did nothing else. For bomb dropping or directing the fire of the battleships they were useless.

It was further reported among the navy officers that the aeroplanes bought by the French and British Governments from one of the prominent American manufacturers have proved so inferior to the standard now obtaining in the fighting zones that they have been discarded. These machines, so widely praised in the United States, are now being used only for practice in aviation training schools.

TROOPS KILLED 180 CIVILIANS IN DUBLIN RIOTS

614 Wounded, 14 Executed and 79 Sentenced to Prison Terms.

ASQUITH GOES TO DUBLIN

Lords and Commons Both Discuss Trouble and Causes Leading to It.

LONDON, May 11.—Fourteen persons have been executed in Ireland, Harold J. Tennant, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for War, told a questioner in the House of Commons today. Seventy-three persons have received sentences of penal servitude and six of imprisonment at hard labor, the Under-Secretary added.

Tennant said two others had been sentenced to death, but the sentences had not been carried out. The number deported from Ireland was given as 1708. Those deported have not yet been tried, and are still in the United Kingdom.

The number of casualties among civilians in the uprising in Ireland up to May 9 was given by Premier Asquith in the House as 180 killed and 514 wounded. Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that he felt it to be his duty to go to Dublin, today.

Irish affairs occupied today even a more important position in the public mind than they did at the time of the home rule controversy. Both Houses of Parliament were engaged with them today. John Dillon's motion for discussion of executions in Ireland comes up in the House of Commons and the House of Lords is considering Lord Loreburn's motion expressing dissatisfaction with the Irish administration.

The debate in the House of Commons is regarded as the more important, for there the Government comes under the cross-fire of the whole Irish party and of a large number of Liberal members who are determined to bring an end not only to arrests and executions in Ireland, but martial law.

The execution in County Cork of Thomas Kent, although it took place before Premier Asquith gave his assurance that no further death sentences would be carried out until the debate was concluded, has brought forth protests from Irish parliamentary circles. The Nationalists also are concerned at the continued arrest and deportation to England for confinement in English jails of rebels from all parts of the country. The number of arrests has not yet been made known, but it must be several thousand.

The names of the Duke of Devonshire and the Earl of Derby are mentioned in the morning papers as the most probable to succeed Baron Wimborne, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, whose resignation was announced yesterday. The Earl of Derby is a Conservative and was Postmaster-General in the Balfour Cabinet. After the outbreak of the war he was placed in charge of the recruiting camp legislation and has been frequently mentioned as a possible successor to Lord Kitchener as Minister of War.

The Duke of Devonshire is also a Conservative and is chief whip for the opposition in the House of Lords.

Among other developments in the Irish situation yesterday were the appointment of a commission headed by Lord Hardinge to investigate the causes of the Irish outbreak and the admission by the Government of the truth of the report that F. Sheehy Skeffington, editor of the Irish Citizen, and two other journalists, had been executed in the Portobello Barracks in Dublin without the knowledge of the military authorities and before martial law was actually in operation.

Manifesto by Redmond.

Another was the granting of the veteran Dillon's demand for a special session of the House of Commons to discuss the executions in Ireland and, finally, the issuance of an important manifesto to the Irish people by John Redmond, strongly denouncing the rebellious movement and eloquently appealing to Ireland to stand fast by constitutional means to obtain self-government.

Of these important events, by far the most sensational was the revelation concerning Skiffington, which formed the climax of the fast-growing resentment of the Irish people at the continuance of the executions in Dublin which has already given the Government reason for pause and reduced Premier Asquith to give an undertaking that there would be no more executions pending the promised Parliamentary discussion, although there are two rebels still awaiting execution.

Premier Asquith announced in Parliament yesterday that the trials by court-martial had virtually finished. He hoped there would be no further need to proceed with extreme rigor.

While there is considerable difference of opinion as to whether it is safe to revoke martial law in Ireland yet, and many members of both houses are satisfied that Major-General Sir John Maxwell's severity was fully justified, the Skiffington incident causes indignation. He was shot on April 28. Martial law came into operation on April 28. The Prime Minister described the shooting as "an isolated act of an irresponsible individual, who was immediately placed under arrest."

WULF QUESTIONS NEUTRALITY OF AMBASSADOR D. R. FRANCIS

Hans Wulff, an attorney in the International Life Building and an officer of the Neutrality League has written a letter to Secretary of State Lansing, in which he questions the neutrality of David R. Francis, serving as Ambassador to Russia.

Wulff bases his complaint on an editorial in the St. Louis Republic, of which Francis is the principal owner. This editorial criticized the last German note sent to the United States and characterized it as "insolent."

Wulff suggests that Francis should not permit a paper which he controls to make an attack on any belligerent Government while he is in the public service. It was through Wulff that 14,000 so-called "peace messages" recently were wired from St. Louis to Congressmen and Senators.

186 SIOUX INDIANS WILL BE MADE UNITED STATES CITIZENS

Ceremony Giving Them Full Rights to Be Conducted by President's Personal Representative.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The United States will gain 186 new citizens Saturday. They are Sioux Indians of Yankton, S. D. Secretary Lane was on his way to that place today as the personal representative of the President to conduct the service. Incidentally he will present the Indians with pens to their allotted land.

The action will mark the first step in Secretary Lane's policy of giving all competent Indians full control of their individual affairs and placing them upon the same legal standing as all other American citizens.

A feature of the ceremonies will be the presentation by Secretary Lane to each Indian of a leather purse, a small American flag and a golden colored badge bearing the inscription "A citizen of the United States."

He will then greet each Indian by his "white" name and the ceremonies will be ended.

BRIDEGROOM WHO DIED SUDDENLY; HIS WIFE MRS. THEODORE KLOPMAYER.

A party of youths marched in front of Theodore Klopmeier's home, 1700 P. street, at 9 o'clock last night, singing, "Here Comes the Bride." They were celebrating the marriage of Klopmeier, an 18-year-old chauffeur, and Irene Kemmler, 17, of 1233 Chouteau avenue, which had taken place in the afternoon at Justice Rice's office.

The young bridegroom went out and joined them. There was scuffling and horseplay, and the young man's mother, Mrs. Minnie Klopmeier, saw him fall as one of the others made a pass at him. She fainted as she saw her son lying unconscious in the street.

The other youths ran away, and the young man's sister, Minnie Klopmeier, tried to find a physician, but it was a half-hour before a physician arrived. Klopmeier was dead, apparently from heart disease, as no external mark of injury could be found.

When the youths returned, after running around the block, there was a quarrel, and Arthur Bristol, 15, of 233 Folsom avenue, was stabbed in the right leg. Joseph Klopmeier, a younger brother of the dead bridegroom, was arrested on Bristol's complaint, and Bristol, Walter Dunn and George Miller were held for the coroner.

3 IRISH SOCIALISTS SENTENCED

Were Convicted of Advising Munition Laborers to Quit Work.

EDINBURGH, May 11.—Three Socialists were sentenced to terms of imprisonment under the defense of the realm act in the high court here today after pleading guilty to advising munition workers at Glasgow last March to quit work. James MacDougall, a member of the School Board, and James Maxton, a school teacher, were sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment each. Jack Smith, a tool maker, received a sentence of 18 months.

Among the papers found on Smith, according to evidence, were copies of a Dublin newspaper, dated April 1, which urged the Irish to strike a blow at the British empire.

NEW EFFORT BEGUN TO DELAY PAYMENT OF THE MILL TAX

Technical Motion Filed in Missouri Supreme Court Threatens to Delay Collection Two Years.

BASED ON WRITTEN PHRASE

Justice Woodson's Reference to "Majority" Opinion Cited as Ground for Rehearing.

A new motion for delay in the city's $2,300,000 mill tax judgment against the United Railways Co., payment of which is now due under the United States Supreme Court's decision of one month ago, was filed with the State Supreme Court at Jefferson City today by former Judge Henry S. Priest, the company's chief counsel. The company has kept up a continuous resistance in the courts since the mill-passenger tax was enacted in 1902. The granting of the present motion would probably mean an added delay of two years or longer.

The motion, according to City Counselor Daves, is based on a "slip of the tongue," or of the pen, alleged to have been made by Judge Woodson of the State Supreme Court, in concurring in the court's judgment against the company, which was handed down in December, 1914. It was from this decision that the company appealed to the United States Supreme Court, which delivered its judgment April 10.

Judge Woodson, while concurring with Judges Walker, Lamm and Brown in a decision written by Walker, expressed his views in a separate written opinion. Judges Graves, Bond and Davis dissented in an opinion written by Graves.

Phrase Which Is Basis of Motion. At the end of his opinion Judge Woodson wrote: "I therefore concur in the majority opinion." Priest, in his motion, holds that this was not what Judge Woodson should have said. According to Priest, he should have said: "I concur in affirming the judgment, for the reasons expressed in my separate opinion." Priest's reason for this argument is that, in his opinion, Judge Woodson based his judgment on different grounds than those on which the three other judges based their opinion.

Therefore, Priest asks a modification or correction of the court's judgment. It is this motion is heard and denied, another appeal to the United States Supreme Court would probably follow.

City Counselor Daves told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he considered Priest's motion to be based on a very fine point. He said if the case were to be taken again to the United States Supreme Court on a writ of error, based on a brilliant complexity, unmarred by even the most negligible of wrinkles, a mass of loosely curling chestnut hair, threaded with just a strand or two of gray, and deep blue eyes which are intense until she has secured her hearers' attention. Then become playful and laughing, and tender and sweet as spring time, seeming to discredit all the tales of her contact with the rude, uncouth world.

She talked of war, of woman, of motherhood and the training of children, and touched upon any number of topics so feelingly and impressively that I thought at the time I should not need to make notes. When I come to reconstruct her expressions I find I have left in my memory a vivid impression rather than tangible words.

It was easy to believe that in her final triumph she secured attention in the fashionable salons of the elite of Europe, for she is exquisite, cultivated, refined. It is not so easy to understand her congeniality with the crowds upon street corners until she said: "One may use a little different way of presenting the subject to different sections of a city, in different countries, in different languages, but the language of the soul and the spirit is universal, the same to the member of Parliament as to the washerwoman."

Language of Soul Same in Aristocrat and Plebeian, Says "La Marechale"

How Cultured Mrs. Booth-Clibborn Reaches Both

Eldest Daughter of Salvation Army's Founders, Mother of Ten Children, Has Remarkably Retained Appearance and Graces of Youth.

By Marguerite Martyn.

CATHERINE BOOTH-CLIBBORN, eldest daughter of the founders of the Salvation Army, called La Marechale by the French people since she led her legions into that country, is paying a first visit to St. Louis. At the home of Dr. Mary McLain I was permitted an intimate contact with the hypnotic personality that has swayed thousands to religious enthusiasm.

In a white robe, fitting closely a slender but well rounded and trimly corseted figure, she lay upon a bed, propped up with dainty lingerie pillows. A laughing boy with a high tenor voice was caressing her and addressing her in endearing terms. I entered. This was Theodore, the son, who plays the violin, and with his sister, Victoria, assists at the mother's evangelistic meetings.

"Four meetings yesterday and one this morning—it was too much," said La Marechale.

"But, now, Toto, will you play dead?" She laughed at her son to dismiss his attentions. Lingeringly, reluctantly, he left the room. She looked so youthful it was difficult to connect her with all the harrowing experiences accredited to her.

We read of how she was persecuted, insulted, imprisoned in various countries of Europe, particularly Switzerland and France, for offending against accustomed forms of religion and because of the prejudice against women preaching. We read of how she commenced public speaking at the age of 14 and had at the beginning a retiring, timid nature, and was further handicapped by an affection of the spine which obliged her to lie upon her back a great part of the day.

Mother of Ten Children.

WE read that she has borne and reared 10 children and much of the time has striven and fought for her faith and her family in poverty, her husband being an invalid. Yet in some remarkable manner there has been preserved to her gifts and graces of face and figure which many a young and tenderly protected girl might envy. Her eldest child is 26, but she herself looks little more than that age.

She has a rather elongated, oval face, a severely straight nose and wide mouth, but a brilliant complexion, unmarred by even the most negligible of wrinkles, a mass of loosely curling chestnut hair, threaded with just a strand or two of gray, and deep blue eyes which are intense until she has secured her hearers' attention. Then become playful and laughing, and tender and sweet as spring time, seeming to discredit all the tales of her contact with the rude, uncouth world.

She talked of war, of woman, of motherhood and the training of children, and touched upon any number of topics so feelingly and impressively that I thought at the time I should not need to make notes. When I come to reconstruct her expressions I find I have left in my memory a vivid impression rather than tangible words.

Her Family Quakers.

"WE had great difficulty in bringing this boy out of Europe, for he is 16 and had finished his second year at Cambridge," she remarked, referring to "Toto." "We had to go back in history a bit and show that our family are Quakers and prove the right to exercise the 'conscientious objection' rule.

"THE LANGUAGE OF THE SOUL IS THE SAME SPOKEN TO A WASHER-WOMAN OR TO A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT."

You might say for me that my eldest son is doing Red Cross work. His letters are just walls of pity for the suffering of the soldiers."

"The only remedy for war is Christianity," she said unqualifiedly. "The pacifist movement is futile. You may erect great temples of peace and gather great minds, great reasoners together to adjust their differences, but it will be useless until all are of one mind and one point of view and that point of view Jesus Christ. I think the settlement of the war is the opportunity of the American people. If they have Christianity in their hearts they will rise up and strike for Christ."

"My father has written the only book on the war that has been written from the purely spiritual standpoint. It is called 'Blood Against Blood,' and is intended to answer the question, 'Shall a Christian kill?'"

"And what is the answer?" I asked. "The answer is, 'No, never,'" she replied.

When she spoke of motherhood, the subject of one of the afternoon addresses being delivered during the two weeks daily series held alternately at Washington and Compton Church, and at the Y. W. C. A. building, a different, a tenderer, a more intimate manner possessed her.

"Motherhood is a great need in your country," she said. "It is getting to be as great a need here as it was in France before the war."

Motherhood as Highest Art. SPEAK of motherhood as an art, the finest, the highest art and an art that is becoming almost a lost art. It is true that it brings peculiar responsibilities. Many women see only the responsibilities. But it is true that it brings peculiar joys, too, such as only motherhood can know. Entered into with passion, there is no joy womanhood to compare with motherhood.

Mrs. Booth-Clibborn is one of eight children of Gen. and Mrs. Booth, all of whom have followed their parents into one or another branch of religious work. All the Booth-Clibborn children, too, are inclined to follow their mother and father into the same field.

The daughter, Victoria, who is conducting some of the meetings here, wears the bonnet of the Salvationists. I remarked upon the rarity of this circumstance.

"There are so many instances of ministers' children who become anything but religious," I said.

"That is because parents are devoted to their children, but without wisdom,"

AEROPLANE FALLS INTO POTOMAC; 3 HURT, 2 MISSING

Machine Had Been Flying Between Washington and Mt. Vernon.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—One of the large hydroaeroplanes which has been flying between Newport News and Washington fell 100 feet into the Potomac River near Mount Vernon, Va., early today, and was wrecked. Three of the occupants badly injured, were rescued by a tugboat. Two are missing.

The tugboat which went to the rescue picked up three men, two of whom were rushed to Alexandria to a hospital. The tugboat then returned to search for the two missing men.

The machine on Monday completed a round trip from Newport News to Baltimore with seven passengers, establishing several records. Shortly after arrival at Newport News it was decided to make a return trip to Washington the same afternoon. Engine trouble developed, causing the boat to alight near Mount Vernon and make the remainder of the trip on the surface of the water. Repairs were made and the return trip to Newport News was begun this morning.

Pilot J. C. MacCauley of Newport News and Mechanician Philip Utter of Cleveland, O., bruised and badly shaken up, are the men taken to the Alexandria Hospital. The third rescued man received only slight bruises. The two missing men are Lewis Krant, a mechanic from the Newport News aviation camp, and Charles Good of Ohio, a student aviator from the camp.

The machine left the Washington Navy Yard about 7 o'clock this morning for the Atlantic Coast Aeronautic Station, Newport News. Opposite Bryan's Point one of the propellers dropped from its axle and the machine plunged into the river.

she replied. "Devotion often is a form of selfishness. Parents do not correct their children, in dread of the little immediate pain to them. Coming over on the ship I took it upon myself to chastise a spoiled, unruly little child. He was bawling continually and worrying everybody, while his poor mother was ill in her berth."

"I spanked him good, and he loved me afterwards. The last I saw of him he was waving and holding out his arms to me."

This statement stands out more vividly than anything else that was said, in contrast to a general impression of intense spirituality—a background partaking somewhat of the supernatural.

ELOPERS PASS BY CLAYTON SINCE THE MUSE QUIT JOB

Many Came for Better or Worse When Werremeyer Spouted Verse.

The glory of Clayton as a haven for elopers has departed since Poetic Justice Werremeyer went out of office. As he himself might say:

"Two Justices fit at all day:
Their case is most pathetic.
For marrying folks won't come their way
Because they're not poetic."
So great has been the falling off in the marital marathon to Clayton that the present Justices L. F. Matthews and Henry Stecker waited on a Post-Dispatch reporter and told him about it. When these Justices took office after Werremeyer's retirement they confidently expected that the fame of Clayton as created by his famous matrimonial poetry would make them rich on marriage fees in a short time.

When couples failed to come their way they adopted the desperate expedient of trying to extend the good will of their business by imitating Werremeyer and writing verse.

Stecker's initial attempt didn't seem to have the requisite punch. It went something like this:

"If you believe 'lovin' is better than hatin',
Come to Clayton.
We'll marry you in a way to make you laugh.
The price for doing the same is two-and-a-half."

Matthews' effort was more to the point. It was like this:

"Roses are red and violets are blue;
Come on out and I'll do it for two."

Stecker would have come right back, but he couldn't think of anything that would rhyme with one-seventy-five. So the contest stopped right there. The verses were never made public and an agreement was reached that neither would cut the rate.

The regular Clayton fee is still $2.50. This was cheerfully paid when Werremeyer, was dispensing poetic justice, but with the passing of the Muse the life of an ordinary prosaic, unimaginative knot-tyer in Clayton is stale, flat and unprofitable.

MISS MARGARETHA ROTH WINS W. U. POPULARITY CONTEST

She Is a Sophomore, and Had 12,940 Votes at the Univer.

Miss Margaretha Roth, a sophomore, was voted the most popular girl at the annual Univer Sorbus, given on Francis Field at Washington University yesterday afternoon and evening by Pralms, the senior men's honorary society. Miss Roth received 12,940 votes, about a thousand more than her nearest competitor, Miss Margaret Woods.

About 15 concessions vied with one another to catch the unwary and separate them from their shekels. In this, the movie thriller recently enacted and filmed on the university campus, was the most successful. About six performances of the pictures were presented and all were given to audiences which filled the "theater."

An exhibit whose popularity was exceeded only by the movies was the aqueous concession of the Lock and Chain Society. At this exhibit, if the baseballs struck their mark, a pin was withdrawn from a lightly set seat and, with the collapse of the seat, a member of the Lock and Chain was precipitated into a tank of water underneath.

The sight of the collegians shivering and dripping in nondescript bathing suits and the chill breezes was irresistible to the crowd. In fact one of the professors paid for the balls and engaged "Foggy" Lewis, "varity pitcher," to throw them for him that he might have the satisfaction of seeing one of his students ducked.

ST. LOUIS BUSINESS BOOSTERS ENTERTAINED BY MCCOOK, NEB.

McCOOK, Neb., May 11.—McCook greeted the St. Louis sales managers on their arrival here in a special train about 8 o'clock last evening. In the evening the McCook Commercial Club rooms were crowded at a smoker in honor of the guests. Brief addresses were made by John Osterberg, R. H. Ogle, John B. Denvir, R. A. Green and A. Barnett. The special departed for Red Cloud this morning.

MISSOURI BANKER'S SON KILLED BY WIFE, WHO ENDS OWN LIFE

Domestic Trouble Said to Have Been Cause of Murder and Suicide.

ARMSTRONG, Mo., May 11.—J. W. Markland, a merchant of this place, was shot fatally by his wife last night when he entered the door of his home. Mrs. Markland then shot herself twice in the heart. Markland lived for three hours. He was shot through the shoulder and in the stomach. Mrs. Markland was a Miss Craigie of Glasgow. Markland was a member of one of Howard County's oldest families. His father is a banker here. Domestic trouble is said to have been the cause of the murder and suicide.

Body Is Taken From River. Joseph Markel of 3412 South Second street took the body of an unidentified man from the river at the foot of Arsenal street last night. The body had been in the water about a month. The man appeared to be about 40 years old, had light hair and wore a blue suit.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of someone who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises and ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires a constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease is driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula is used exclusively in the damp English climate, is a constitutional treatment, and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength). Take this some and add to it 4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring about a cure. If the catarrh is chronic, closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmitin is used in this way as it acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has the effect of restoring the normal recovery of the patient. The preparation is easy to use, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has a trial, should give this treatment a trial.—ADV.

You can't "spell-bind" many men into liking what they dislike—every man's taste is his own

IF A MANUFACTURER in his advertising tells you (truthfully, as he believes) that he has the "best tasting cigarette in the world" and you believe him, you probably try his cigarette. It may be a very good cigarette. But his over-enthusiasm has led you to expect something almost impossible. You light that cigarette and—

Well, there's a good chance that you're disappointed. It may not be the fault of the cigarette. The cigarette may be mighty good. But you've been led to expect too much. You've been "over-sold."

And besides, tastes differ—who can tell what cigarette will best please your taste before you try it?

That's why we leave the taste of Fatimas entirely up to you. We believe you will like them; but you may not.

To be sure, most men like the taste of Fatimas better than any other cigarette they ever smoked. Figures indicate that. More Fatimas are sold than any other cigarette in the world costing over 5c.

But the taste isn't all. If you do like Fatimas' taste as well as these thousands and thousands of other men do, you'll find a second reason for sticking to them for good. And that reason is that Fatimas will give you cigarette-comfort at all times. This is why they have won the name of being as SENSIBLE a cigarette as a man can find anywhere.

They are comfortable to the throat and tongue. You'll never experience any "bandpaper tickle" or "hotness" in the cool-smoking Turkish blend of Fatimas.

And Fatimas can be smoked more freely than any other cigarette we know of without leaving any mean after-feeling, as some less skillfully blended cigarettes do.

If you have never smoked Fatimas—you should try them.

Hughes Talked of By Progressives as a Unity Candidate

We know stands for them and is able to put them through. We are for peace, but not for peace at any price."

Appeal to Get Together.
It was said that Republicans and independent voters in general had responded "understandingly to the sentiments expressed in the statement issued in January by the Progressive National Committee, which in effect, was an appeal for Republicans and Progressives to 'get together.'"

It was added, however, that "there is an element in the Republican party leadership which seems to be giving more thought and attention to what that party is against, and whom it is against, than to what it is for and whom it is for. Therefore, we again call attention to our Chicago statement as to the inevitable outcome of a failure to reach a common understanding."

"Reports from the Progressive organization throughout," the Executive Committee's statement said, "show that the American people have become impatient of leaders who hold that comfort, prosperity and material welfare above honor, self-sacrifice and patriotism; that we need a re-awakening of our older Americanism, of our belief in those things that our country and our flag stand for; that our people are seeking leadership of the high order and most courageous character—leadership that will draft to itself for the country's benefit the unselfish and patriotic service of our ablest citizens."

"Our people are demanding that principles and policies shall be proclaimed and carried out by a man who has the wisdom to formulate them and the manhood to uphold them."

CONFEREES STILL HOPEFUL OF AGREEMENT ON ARMY BILL

Peace Strength of 180,000 Probably Will Be Decided Upon as a Compromise.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Conferees of the army reorganization bill in an all-day session yesterday failed to reach final agreement on disputed phases of the measure, but both Senate and House members said there was a general feeling that they would get together after several more days of discussion.

All are agreed that it was useless to talk further for a standing army of 250,000 men or to keep any longer for the Senate's proposed Federal volunteer reserve army. The general understanding seemed to be that the peace strength should be fixed at approximately 180,000 men.

FINED FOR ATTACKING CARMAN

Sleeper Who Made Round Trip on One Fare Wanted Transfer.
Fred Frazier of 647 Tyrolea avenue, a printer, was fined $10 in police court today, on complaint of Rex Bridges, a conductor on a Fourth Street car. Bridges said Frazier went to sleep on his car when it was eastbound, and made a round trip on a single fare, and that, on reaching Grand avenue, he demanded a transfer, which the conductor refused to give him unless he should pay a second fare. Frazier, it was charged, then pushed the conductor against the back of the car. His fine was stayed on good behavior by William O'Connor, Provisional Judge.

HOW CADOMENE TABLETS. (3 GRAIN) CHANGED ONE MAN'S ENTIRE LIFE

Burton was nervous, at Work, at Recreation, at Home.
He couldn't sleep at night without the most hideous dreams, he suffered with melancholy, and didn't seem able to go ahead. He was constantly cross and irritable, suffered with dizziness, trembling of the limbs, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, and a general inability to act naturally at all times.

Physically and Mentally Burton was a nervous wreck, his muscles became flabby, the entire body became weakened and devitalized, his memory was poor, he lacked ambition; in fact, business and social duties bored him; and furthermore, Burton was alarmed. He had reached the stage where he didn't believe his condition could be remedied. He had almost lost hope, but "upon a friend's advice he tried Cadomene Tablets."

Cadomene Tablets Restored Vitality

Now Burton will tell you he is a Well Man. Hale and hearty, enjoys his work, his pleasures. Life looks better to him, his family means more to him, his business is better and he's glad he learned of Cadomene Tablets and experienced their wonderful revitalizing and strengthening influence on his whole system.

If you suffer as Burton did, the burden of proof of the power and effectiveness of Cadomene Tablets rests with us. We guarantee Cadomene Tablets to give perfect satisfaction, and if they do not prove highly beneficial in your case we do not want your money, and every cent you pay for them will be refunded to you.

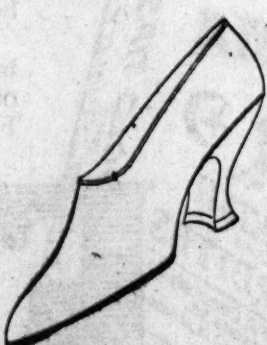

Cadomene Tablets build up and nourish the entire system. They are unexcelled as a nerve invigorator and lasting tonic in restoring to the various organisms natural vim, vitality and normal vigor.

For sale by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and all live druggists.

ASKED THAT FUNERAL BE WHITE

Requests of Aged Woman Resident of St. Joseph, Mo., Carried Out.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 11.—When her physician a short time ago told Mrs. Anna E. Yeager, 84 years old, that she could not live long, she prepared for her funeral. She died last night, and written directions for the last rites for her were read today. She named her pallbearers, six women, specified that she was to be buried in white silken garments which she had prepared and packed away herself for the purpose, asked that if possible a white hearse be obtained for her funeral, that only automobiles be used in the cortege and that only white flowers be used.

FOR THIN MEN AND WOMEN WHO WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

Why Fleshmaking Food Does Not Always Produce Flesh on Thin People. How Weight Has Often Been Increased.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate yesterday. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? Possibly you haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food probably passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The materials for flesh, fat and strength were there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth may be you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true for many thin folks the world over. Their nutritive organs, their functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food it aims to turn the fat, sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe, fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood. It prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol keeps it to stop the leakage, and so it quickly, and to make the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop flesh between your skin and bones.

RESERVE CORPS TO GET UNIFORMS AND RIFLES NEXT WEEK

156 Members Progress Rapidly in Learning Rudiments of Military Formations.

DISCIPLINE MAINTAINED

Business Men "Called" Hard for Not Paying Strict Attention to Orders.

The 156 business and professional men training for national defense in the Officer Reserve Training Corps, at First Regiment Armory, have progressed so far in the rudiments of military formations that next week they are to be allowed to step out in brand-new uniforms, armed with army rifles. Announcement was made at last night's training session that by the next drill night each outfit, the campaign hats, flannel shirts and tan leather leggings will have arrived.

The new uniforms, to be paid for by the members, are the same as those to be worn at the regular army Citizens' Training Camps this summer. They are distinguished from the uniforms of the officers only by the hat cord, which in the case of the Reserve Training Corps is red, white and blue, while that of the army men is a dark brown.

Five Companies on Floor.

Shouts of "column right," "column left," "halt" and other army commands, filled the spacious Armory last night as five companies drilled simultaneously. The national guard officers, in charge of the companies, kept them constantly moving. There was marching and counter-marching, turns to the right and left, half-face diagonal marching and various other maneuvers.

The members went about training earnestly, although sometimes awkwardly. Some of them could not help looking from right to left to see what their companions were doing. Those who did this were usually a little behind time in executing the sharp orders of the Captains. Strict discipline was maintained and when an officer saw members of his company not paying attention of falling to respond promptly to his commands, he gave those men a private lecture. One squad of Capt. J. F. Carmack's company improperly executed a "close-up" order, followed by a sharp "Halt." They came to a stop a step in advance of the remainder of the line.

Capt. Carmack singled them out. They might have been bankers, heads of large businesses or the most prominent lawyers or judges in town. But to the Captain they were just privates. "You fellows were not paying attention," he shouted. "You didn't hear the order because your minds were not on what you were doing. I am going to talk to you just like I talk to the men of my own company. You've got to pay attention. When I gave that command you were all looking over there. I saw you."

"Over there," referred to by the Captain, was the side wall near the entrance where a number of women and girls, friends or relatives of the recruits, were seated, watching the drilling.

SPANISH BUDGET PROVIDES FOR SHIP LINE TO NEW YORK

Vigo to America Route Shorter by 1000 Miles Than Liverpool Route.

MADRID, May 11.—The government will include in the coming budget a fast steamship line between Vigo and New York.

It is proposed to make the crossing in six days, the steamers connecting with special trains, making the trip between Vigo and Madrid in 18 hours and connecting here with fast express for Paris and other points on the continent. A large hotel will be built at Vigo in connection with the new line.

The design is to make the new line the main artery between America and the continent, as the route is about 1000 miles shorter than those by way of Liverpool or Southampton.

REPORTER'S DREAM OF WEALTH IN $2.50 STOCK DEAL FADES

Bought $2500 in Shares for Pittance, but Company's Assets Are Sold on a Note.

John Cousley's vision of wealth is fading rapidly, and truth may be that it has faded altogether. He is the newspaper reporter who bought 25 shares of stock for $2500 at a Sheriff's sale Monday, and who was pleasantly startled next day when Jephtha D. Howe announced the stock was worth par, $2500, and that steps would be taken to have the sale to Cousley set aside.

Cousley had purchased the stock just to have some glittering documents around the house, rather than with the expectation of "cleaning up" anything like $2500.

Yesterday Cousley was reading automobile advertisements, when he happened to learn that an auction was being conducted on the courthouse steps. It had to do with the Sanitary Street Flushing Machine Co., in which Cousley, on the same courthouse spot, had bought 25 shares at 10 cents a share. But this time M. J. Hurley sold all of the company's assets, including several patents, for $35,000. The stock had been pledged with Hurley two months ago to secure payment of a promissory note for $12,000. Four men bought in the assets, but Charles Sutter of 555 Berlin avenue, the company's president, said he did not know the identity of the purchasers.

Cousley now figures that if the company has no other obligations, other than the $12,000 note, he ought to receive $230 in the distribution of the remaining $24,000. He doesn't know anything about his stock, but he sincerely hopes it is nonassessable.

FOREIGN-BORN MINE LAYERS TRY TO SAVE THEIR JOBS

Appeal to Congressmen From Order That Only Native Americans Shall Be Employed.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A protest against the discharge of five naturalized citizens from the crew of the army mine planter Ringgold, because they were not native born Americans, has been lodged with Secretary Baker by Representative Johnson of Washington. The dismissed men, John Carlson, Alfred Christianson, Carl Thomasson, L. Hermansen and William Matheson, who are constituents of Johnson, appealed to him by telegraph from Lacquer, Wash.

"We, the undersigned of the crew of the United States army mine planter Ringgold," the telegram read "have been notified that we will be discharged because we are not American born. Being naturalized citizens of the State of Washington, we think this gross discrimination against foreign-born citizens and we therefore ask you to do us a favor and look into this matter for us."

Secretary Baker said he would investigate. Army officers explained that as mine layers necessarily learned the most carefully guarded of all coast defense secrets, consequently it was necessary to select them with the utmost care.

COURT DENIES HABEAS CORPUS WRIT FOR H. G. GILMORE

Counsel for Man Accused of Arson Contends He Cannot Be Placed in Jeopardy.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 11.—The Supreme Court today denied the application for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Harold G. Gilmore of 5000 Delmar boulevard, former head of the Gilmore-Bonfig Decorating Co., one of the defendants in the "arson trust" case, in which there was a mistrial in April, due to letters having been sent to some of the jurors. After the mistrial Gilmore was surrendered by his bondman and submitted to being placed in custody, in order that his attorneys could make the application for the habeas corpus writ. The application was based on the contention that Gilmore had been once "placed in jeopardy" and could not lawfully be tried again.

It was expected that if the proceeding was successful in Gilmore's case, Julius R. Borch and Harry C. Mel, jointly charged with Gilmore with conspiracy, who were being tried with him when the mistrial occurred, would also seek writs.

BEGGING 'FEARFUL' FOR AN ORCHESTRA, DAMROSCH SAYS

His New York Organization Recently Relieved of It by $2,000,000 Endowment.

Walter Damrosch, organizer and for 21 years director of the New York Symphony Orchestra, urged in a luncheon talk at the City Club today that an effort should be made to obtain a permanent endowment for the support of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

"Annual begging is a fearful thing," he said, in referring to the solicitation of funds which is now necessary for the support of the St. Louis orchestra, and which, until two years ago, was necessary in New York. A gift of $2,000,000 by Harry Harkness Flagler, president of the New York Symphony Society, which yields the orchestra an income of $100,000 a year, put an end to the need for "begging" there.

"The symphony orchestra cannot maintain itself on its income from the sale of tickets," Damrosch said. "If it does this, it is not fulfilling its mission. Like the university, the library, the hospital, it must give more than it receives from the public. And, like hospitals, universities and libraries, it must be endowed in order to fulfill its mission without sacrificing its ideals."

Rich Men's Interest Needed.
 "Your rich men must realize their duty. Not only the rich man's money, but his personal interest is needed. Some men say, 'Oh, take my money,' but don't make me go to the concert. Such rich men are in danger of getting less out of life than many poor men get out of it."

"There can't be too many concerts. The symphony orchestra must extend their operations to win a new public, and particularly they must catch the children. Our American parents are careful in protecting their children against bad literature, but they let the children's musical taste be vulgarized by ragtime, without realizing the harm that is thus done."

"In reaching the public with music, we must realize that only the surface has been scratched. An enormous work is needed to make the American people musical. Every city must contribute its share to this work. In Germany there are 300 opera houses, and little Italy has nearly as many. In the United States there are only two grand opera organizations of distinction."

"New York, with its hundreds of concerts every year, might seem to be full of music, but only a small part of the entire population is interested in symphonic music—say 100,000 persons out of the 4,000,000 or more of the city's inhabitants. Probably the proportion in other cities is even smaller. The foundation of a local symphony orchestra, on a firm basis, is the best guarantee of permanent musical interest in a city."

Damrosch said he did not believe any plan could be evolved which would make a symphony orchestra self-supporting, such as the use of large halls at a popular price of admission. He said frequent concerts with low prices on Sunday afternoons and at other times, were preferable to the use of very large halls.

Coliseum Too Large.
 The St. Louis Coliseum, he said, is too large for effective symphonic music. He spoke of the need for keeping symphony players in proper shape for concert work and said that a man who plays ragtime three times a day in a restaurant is unfitted by this work for taking part in a Beethoven symphony.

He said the musicians' union had done much to protect its members and improve their condition, but had sometimes abused its power. As a rule, he said, union officials were in harmony with symphonic ideals, but he held that orchestra managements should be free to import musicians from other cities in cases where such as are needed cannot be found locally.

The Damrosch orchestra, which appears at the Odeon tonight, is completing what is considered the greatest orchestral tour ever made. The organization of 75 men will have traveled 8000 miles when the tour is finished, and will have given 77 concerts in 10 weeks. To avoid any possible unpleasantness, in view of the many nationalities represented in the orchestra, Canada was not visited on this tour.

The program for tonight's concert comprises Kalinnikov's Symphony in G minor, Debussy's "L'Après midi d'un Faune," and Grieg's "British Folk-songs and Dances." Josef Hofmann, piano soloist, will play Schumann's "Concerto in A Minor."

"FIRST FAMILY" NAMES FOR HISTORICAL TABLET OPPOSED

Fear That Proposal of Daughters of 1812 Might Lead to Controversy.

A plan of the Daughters of 1812 to put the names of about 100 "first families of Missouri" on a bronze tablet in the Jefferson Memorial Building is being opposed by the Missouri Historical Society, which controls the space allotted for the tablet.

On the tablet will be several scenes from Missouri history. It had been the intention to add the "first family" names.

Objections are based on the possibility that any such list of names might be questioned and lead to controversy, and that if such a privilege was granted to one organization it might be demanded by others.

RUSSIAN LEADER TELLS WHY TROOPS WENT TO FRANCE

"To Show We Are Firmly With Our Allies," Says Dr. Milukoff of Duma.

LONDON, May 11.—Prof. Paul Milukoff, the leader of the Constitutional Democratic party in Russia and one of the most prominent members of the Duma party now visiting England, in an interview with the Post-Dispatch correspondent discussed Germany's latest peace efforts, saying:

"Of course, Germany would like to have peace now, when the balance is so much in her favor. But the allies don't want peace, so Germany's efforts in that direction will go for naught."

"You ask me how long I think the war will last. I will quote your great President Abraham Lincoln. He said, when the same question was asked him at the time of the Civil War: 'Until we have attained our object.'"

"We must and will go on until lasting peace can be established. Personally, I think that could best be done by the creation of the United States of Europe along the lines of nationality. That is a good basis for future peace."

Being asked by the Post-Dispatch correspondent the true reason for the appearance of Russian troops in France, he answered: "To show that we are fighting side by side with our allies for the same cause."

EX-CONVICT ACCUSES PASTOR OF ATTEMPT AT BLACKMAIL

Philadelphia Minister Accused After He Announced Plan to Preach Sermon on Plagiarist's Career.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—The Rev. George C. Richmond, suspended pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, was arrested by postal inspectors yesterday and held in $500 bail, on the charge of having attempted to blackmail a member of his former congregation by threatening to deliver a sermon next Sunday entitled "A Remarkable Escape from Sing Sing, or How I Won a Place in Decent Society for a Notorious Criminal."

E. Howard Neumer, a clerk in the Pennsylvania Hospital, identified letters sent by the Rev. Mr. Richmond to him and to Superintendent Daniel Test of the hospital. Neumer admitted he had served a sentence in Sing Sing.

One of the letters reads: "My Dear Howard—Yielding to numerous requests, I have decided to prepare and deliver (next Sunday) in public a lecture on 'A remarkable escape from Sing Sing, or how I won a place in decent society for a notorious criminal.'"

"This, as you well know, will be a complete statement of your career, together with a revelation of how I brought you to Philadelphia Hospital and how since then you have struggled upward."

"If you have any suggestion to make kindly mail them at once, as my notices go out Wednesday p. m. Have not yet received Easter offering. Your penitence is still due for past nine months."

DETECTIVES FIND WATCH IN TOP OF A SUSPECT'S SHOE

Identified as Part of $200 Worth of Jewelry Stolen Yesterday—Three Men Held.

Leo Berger, 22 years old, who gave his address as Fourteenth and Monroe streets, transferred something from a coat to a trousers pocket last night when detectives approached him and two companions at Fourteenth and Gay streets. The detectives found a hole in the trousers pocket and then observed a tiny wrist watch on a bracelet clinging to the top of Berger's shoe.

The watch was monogrammed "L. C. C." Berger said it was his sister's, and then that he bought it from a stranger, Mrs. Charles Christman, 2515 Michigan avenue, identified it as part of $200 worth of jewelry stolen from her home yesterday afternoon.

The police will apply for a burglary warrant against Berger and his two companions, Steve Willis and Patrick Carlin, who also were held. Willis and Carlin are ex-convicts, the former having figured in charges made against Warden McClung's administration of prison affairs.

RUSSIAN LEADER TELLS WHY TROOPS WENT TO FRANCE

"To Show We Are Firmly With Our Allies," Says Dr. Milkoff of Duma.

LONDON, May 11.—Prof. Paul Milkoff, the leader of the Constitutional-Democratic party in Russia and one of the most prominent members of the Duma party now visiting England, in an interview with the Post-
Dispatch correspondent, discussed
Germany's latest peace efforts, saying:

"Of course, Germany would like to have peace now, when the balance is so much in her favor. But the allies don't want peace, so Germany's efforts in that direction will go for naught.

"You ask me how long I think the war will last. I will quote your great President Abraham Lincoln. He said, when the same question was asked him at the time of the Civil War:
"Until we have attained our object."

"We must and will go on until lasting peace can be established. Personally, I think that could best be done by the creation of the United States of Europe along the lines of nationality. That is a good basis for future peace."

Being asked by the Post-Dispatch correspondent the true reason for the appearance of Russian troops in France, he answered: "To show that we are fighting side by side with our allies for the same cause."

EX-CONVICT ACCUSES PASTOR OF ATTEMPT AT BLACKMAIL

Philadelphia Minister Arrested After
He Announced Plan to Preach
Sermon on Plaintiff's Career.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—The Rev.
George C. Richmond, suspended pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, was arrested by postal inspectors yesterday and held in $500 bail, on the charge of having attempted to blackmail a member of his former congregation by threatening to deliver a sermon next Sunday entitled "A Remarkable Escape from Sing Sing, or How I Won a Place in Decent Society for a Notorious Criminal."

E. Howard Neumer, a clerk in the Pennsylvania Hospital, identified letters sent by the Rev. Mr. Richmond to him and to Superintendent Daniel Test of the hospital. Neumer admitted he had served a sentence in Sing Sing.

One of the letters reads:
"My Dear Howard—Yielding to numerous requests, I have decided to prepare and deliver (next Sunday) in public a lecture on 'a remarkable escape from Sing Sing, or how I won a place in decent society for a notorious criminal.'"

"This, as you well know, will be a complete statement of your career, together with a revelation of how I brought you to Philadelphia Hospital and how since then you have struggled upward."

"If you have any suggestion to make kindly mail them at once, as my notices go out Wednesday p. m. Have not yet received Easter offering. Your pew rent is still due for past nine months."

DETECTIVES FIND WATCH IN TOP OF A SUSPECT'S SHOE

Identified as Part of $200 Worth of Jewelry Stolen Yesterday—
Three Men Held.

Leo Berger, 22 years old, who gave his address as Fourteenth and Monroe streets, transferred something from a coat to a trousers pocket last night when detectives approached him and two companions at Fourteenth and Gay streets.
The detectives found a hole in the trousers pocket and then observed a tiny wrist watch on a bracelet clinging to the top of Berger's shoe.

The watch was monogrammed "L. C. C."
Berger said it was his sister's, and then he bought it from a stranger, Mrs.
Charles Christman, 3515 Michigan avenue, identified it as part of $200 worth of jewelry stolen from her home yesterday afternoon.

The police will apply for a burglary warrant against Berger and his two companions, Steve Willis and Patrick Carlin, who also were held. Willis and Carlin are ex-convicts, the former having figured in charges made against Warden McClung's administration of prison affairs.

SEVEN BODIES OF WOMEN ARE FOUND IN HOME OF SOLDIER

Austrian Believed to Have Lured Girls to Village From Vienna, and Murdered Them.

BUDAPEST, May 11.—The work of a modern Bluebeard has been discovered by the police in the village of Chinkota. While searching the home of a missing soldier seven lead cases, each containing the body of a woman, were found.

The bodies could not be identified, but are presumed to have been those of servant girls enticed to the village from Vienna. The former occupant of the house, who is reported to have died of typhus fever in Serbia, cautioned the proprietor when he was leaving for the front under no conditions to enter the building where machinery, which could not be replaced, was stored.

4-PAGE AD FOR ROOSEVELT ENDS BY PASSING PLATE

Open Letter Says T. R. Would Be Best Guarantee for Peace; Asks for Campaign Funds.

RECORD AS DIPLOMAT

Nonpartisan League Gives Seven Instances Where Colonel Averted Trouble.

Enthusiastic supporters of Theodore Roosevelt throw his hat into the political advertising ring in the issue of the Saturday Evening Post, out today. Then they pass around the hat for contributions to a fund to be "expended for publicity."

The four-page advertisement closes with a coupon form to be filled out by contributors who are asked to donate from $1 to $10. The first page contains a picture of Roosevelt and the title: "Why Roosevelt Would Be Our Best Guarantee of Peace. An Open Letter to Patriotic Americans."

The sponsor for the advertisement is announced to be the Roosevelt Nonpartisan League, 12 Vanderbilt avenue, New York City. The ad cost about $500 a page.

The advertisement purports to give a historical outline of the things Roosevelt did in the interests of peace when he was President. It opens with an admission that before his accession to the presidency there were many persons who thought his impulsive disposition and his imperialistic tendencies would endanger the peace of the nation.

"100 Per Cent Peace Record."
"But what are the facts?" asks the advertisement. "They show a peace record that is 100 per cent perfect."

Seven instances are given to prove that Roosevelt was a peaceful President.

The first of these was the dispute with Great Britain over the Alaska boundary. The advertisement says that "if Roosevelt had let Congress and the press get into the discussion it is easy to see how public anger would have blazed up both here and in Great Britain."

Another instance cited was the quarrel with Germany over her blockade of Venezuelan ports in an attempt to enforce payment of debts to German subjects. The advertisement says Roosevelt did not make it known how near to war this controversy brought us, and "for the sake of good feeling kept sagaciously silent about the inner facts." The advertisement adds: "Another kind of President would have kept sending notes until Germany had occupied and fortified the territory."

How He Dealt With Germany.
The Germans had threatened to bombard Venezuelan ports and occupy its coast. Here is the story of what happened as told in the advertisement: "Roosevelt was watching, but not waiting too long. He announced our stand on the Monroe doctrine: 'We do not guarantee any state against punishment if it misconducts itself, provided the punishment does not take the form of the acquisition of territory by any non-American Power.'"

"Germany professed she had no such intentions—at least no 'permanent acquisition.' She felt free to make a 'temporary' acquisition. But Roosevelt knew how temporary acquisitions by European Powers soon become permanent. So he asked, through the German Ambassador, Dr. Holleben, the Emperor's consent to arbitration. It was refused."

"Finally, Roosevelt told the German Ambassador that if he didn't receive the Emperor's consent in 10 days, he would order Admiral Dewey, then south of Cuba, to take his fleet to Venezuela to prevent a foreign landing."

"A week passed. The German Ambassador said no consent had come. He was sure none would come. Roosevelt remarked to him, pleasantly: 'Then there's no use in Dewey's waiting the full 10 days. If the assurance doesn't come in 48 hours, Dewey will sail.'"

It came (in 36 hours), and Dewey didn't sail. But the Emperor politely asked Roosevelt to become the arbitrator in the dispute with Venezuela. Roosevelt declined the honor, turning the business over to The League Court of Arbitration."

"The friction with Japan over the exclusion of Japanese coolies from California schools in 1906 also is cited. In this case it is asserted that Roosevelt, by conducting 'conversation between gentlemen' with high Japanese officials, induced Japan not to send any more coolies here, and thus averted possible trouble."

"Another Master Stroke."
Another master stroke for peace, the advertisement says, was the sending of the United States battleship fleet around the world just after the friction with Japan.

The advertisement tells of diplomatic troubles with Santo Domingo, Cuba and Colombia, in which Roosevelt is alleged to have averted war. It also tells of the trouble with Morocco over the kidnapping by the bandit Raisuli of Perdicaris, an American citizen, during which Roosevelt demanded Perdicaris alive or "Raisuli dead." He got Perdicaris.

Attention is then called to Roosevelt's achievement in settling the Russian-Japanese War at the Portsmouth conference and his receipt of the Nobel prize for doing so.

Coca-Cola

Nature and You—

Thank Mother Nature for Coca-Cola.

Simple, wholesome, growing things furnish all its ingredients.

The part that we play is in the selection of these things and their careful, cleanly blending into the delicious syrup. Ours is the skill—Nature is the source.

Every day at meals or between times you yourself use one or more of these ingredients as food or flavoring or drink.

Just the same fine sugar that you put into your coffee, or spread on your cereals, plays a large part in making Coca-Cola Syrup. Cane sugar is the only sweetening we use. For this one ingredient alone we draw on Nature to the extent of an average of eighty tons of sugar a day—about four carloads.

The very same tea that you and millions of people all over the world gather wholesome cheer and refreshment from every day gives of its store to help make Coca-Cola refreshing. Here again is the treasure house of Nature tapped for your pleasure and benefit.

Even the pure, fresh water that plays so important a part in your good health conveys these gifts of Nature to you in the syrup form and (carbonated) at the soda-fountain or in the bottle.

That's what Coca-Cola is—simply and only a pure product of Nature—that's why it is so wholesome, delicious and refreshing.

Do you wonder then that for 30 years Coca-Cola has held its high place in the esteem and affections of the American people?

Do you wonder that this very day, today, 3,000,000 people will ask for Coca-Cola at the soda-fountains of America? Think of it—an average of 90,000,000 glasses of Coca-Cola are drunk every month.

Thank Nature for the ingredients that make Coca-Cola the wholesome beverage that it is—thank us for the careful selection that makes it the inimitably delicious beverage that it is.

But—to make sure that you will get this perfect combination of goodness and purity you must Demand the genuine by full name—nicknames encourage substitution.

Send for "The Romance of Coca-Cola" the story of a success—a further description of the ingredients touched on above—statistics and analysis. You will enjoy reading it.

The Sandman Story for Tonight

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

BENNIE DOG saw Tommie Cat coming down the road one morning with a pole over his shoulder and carrying a basket.

"Where are you going?" asked Bennie Dog.

"I am going fishing; want to come along?" said Tommie Cat.

"Oh! I can catch them if I want to," said Bennie Dog. "I know a lot about fishing. I caught a whale once."

"Come along and show me how," said Tommie Cat.

Bennie Dog was so pleased to think Tommie Cat had come to him that he began to believe he really had caught a whale.

When the truth was told, Bennie Dog had never been fishing in all his life.

"Oh! I'll show you how to fish," said Bennie Dog, looking very important and trotting along with Tommie Cat; "but of course you know whales cannot be caught every day, and it takes a long time sometimes to get even a bite."

"What kind of bait do you use to catch a whale, Bennie Dog?"

"Bait?" asked Bennie Dog, looking very wise. "Let me think; it was so long ago that I have almost forgotten; what do you use for bait?"

"I use worms. I have some here in this can," said Tommie Cat.

"Oh! I guess worms will do as well as anything," said Bennie Dog. "Whales are not very particular about bait."

"I don't know," said Bennie Dog, "but I'll show you how to fish, while, but just then Bennie Dog felt the pole pull, and when he tried to pull it out of the water, he found it was too heavy."

Bennie Dog tugged and Tommie Cat watched him with wide-open eyes.

Then they both pulled and pulled, and all of a sudden something gave way and over went Tommie Cat and Bennie Dog on top of him; and something black went flying over their heads on the end of the line.

Neither of them stopped to look at what they had caught; they scrambled to their feet in a jiffy, and away they ran, as fast as if the whole whale family were after them, never stopping until they were safe behind a fence in a field.

OTH of them felt very silly, and did not speak for a minute or so; then Tommie Cat said: "What did you run for? He'll get away."

"Why did you run?" said Bennie Dog. "You caught that whale as much as I did; you better go back and take him off the hook. I don't like fish, anyway."

"I don't want a whale to eat," said Tommie Cat. "I only wanted to catch one; you take him off the hook; you know more about them than I do."

"I'll go back with you," said Bennie Dog. "But it is your whale, so you must unhook him," said Bennie Dog, who never saw a whale in all his life.

Back they went, and very cautiously approached the place where the pole was lying on the ground.

They did not see anything at first, and then Bennie Dog and Tommie Cat looked at the end of the line and looked at each other in a very silly way, for on the end of the line was an old boot, and not a whale at all.

"Well, that is the way to catch a whale, anyway," said Bennie Dog. "You can fish for one now by yourself. Tommie Cat. I have showed you how it is done."

stances, collateral had as security could not be produced at the time of examination and in a few instances the managing officer did not appear sufficiently familiar with the financial condition of the maker of the note. Under head of 'other real estate,' you have one house and lot in De Soto that you have carried nearly six years as permitted by section 7. This should be disposed of before April 5, 1915. Your clerical work is good. Your overdrafts have close attention. I must insist, however, that your bank be relieved of excessive and doubtful paper and that maturities have closer attention, and that your extensive practice of extending personal notes by interest payments be discontinued.

"You may also furnish me with a sworn statement of your financial condition, aside from the amount invested in your bank. I am of the opinion that in any instance where the sole owner of the private bank is unable to give the bank his personal attention, that the bank should be incorporated and managed by a full corps of officers and directors. Please give me your reply within 15 days touching each matter mentioned. Yours very truly,

"JOHN T. MITCHELL."

Report on Loans.

Concerning loans amounting to $532.35 made to George R. Raubus and characterized as excessive in Dooley's report, Dooley made the following detailed statement:

"Collateral found as follows: Assignments of one year's rent, amount not stated, to be paid by L. F. Funk, beginning Aug. 15, 1914. The opinion of R. B. Munroe is that the amount to be paid should be $1000. There are also two collateral notes aggregating $42 secured by real estate. R. B. Munroe thinks that his father holds other collateral, but he does not know of what it consists. R. B. Munroe remembers having heard his father remark that in case of the death of Raubus a loss of probably $1000 would occur on his liabilities. However, R. B. Munroe says that from a moral standpoint this risk is good."

On a list of the notes Dooley made the following observations in his report:

"$2537.50, J. S. Turley. Collateral could not be found, neither was it described so as to give your examiner a knowledge of what it might be. R. B. Munroe not familiar with financial circumstances of maker."

"$2855, A. Richelberger. Collateral D-T note for $1712.68. R. B. Munroe thinks financial circumstances of maker good but knows nothing of the financial circumstances of maker."

"$3500, D. F. Cameron. R. B. Munroe not familiar with financial circumstances of maker."

"$3596.80, S. J. Clifford. R. B. Munroe does not know maker or indorsees."

"In practically all cases where notes bear interest from date the interest has been added to the principal and carried so on books. Practically all of personal notes have been extended with interest credit from time to time. Such notes, bearing dates of 1915, are yet being carried in this way. In a great many instances such interest credits are made with lead pencil. In a great many instances we were unable to find trust deeds or collateral belonging to notes."

"$13271.69, in loans secured by real estate. R. B. Munroe thinks that all are secured by first mortgages. A number of these mortgages could not be found during the examination. A number of said notes are past due, but not for a great length of time. R. B. Munroe not familiar with the value of real estate covered by said mortgages."

George Mann, vice president of the People's Bank of De Soto, used by the prosecution as expert credit man, testified today that notes for loans aggregating $24,000, held by the Jefferson County bank when it closed, were given by insolvent persons. The amount of these loans was about $10,000 in excess of the bank's capital stock and surplus.

Of 39 notes held by the bank, Mann testified, all the makers except Robert B. Munroe were insolvent. He said he did not know the financial condition of Munroe.

Two of the notes, one for $1345 and the other for $2000, were signed by Samuel Nicols, of St. Louis. Mann testified that they were of no value. Nicols, he said, was regarded as insolvent in De Soto April 1, 1915, eight days before the Jefferson County bank closed. On the $1345 notes $50 had been paid. On the other nothing had been paid.

The amounts for which the notes, declared worthless by Mann, were given ranged from $5 to $4000. One for the latter amount was signed by F. J. Lovett, former Mayor of De Soto. Lovett, Mann testified, was insolvent April 1. Nothing had been paid on this note when the bank failed.

Commissioner Mitchell Does Not Recall Report on Bank.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 11.—Bank Commissioner Mitchell, questioned by a reporter about the disclosures in the Munroe trial at Hillsboro, said he did not remember the contents of Examiner Dooley's report. The papers, he said, were evidence in the case, and would show for themselves. He said he did not remember a telephone conversation which Dooley had with him the day that Dooley made his examination of the bank.

INQUEST OVER MAN SHOT BY BOY HE ASKED TO STOP CURSING

Wife of W. E. Anderson Testifies One of Gang Kicked Husband After He Had Fallen.

An inquest was held today into the death of William E. Anderson of 2235 Montana avenue, who was shot early Sunday morning in front of 409 South Broadway by Eugene Hamilton of 1337 South Ninth street because he requested Hamilton and some companions to cease using profane language.

Mrs. Anderson testified that her husband merely turned and said: "Will you please stop using that language," when he was shot. One of the members of the gang, she said, kicked him in the face after he fell.

Hamilton, who has admitted to the police that he shot Anderson, refused, on the advice of his attorney, to testify.

MRS. IDA KELLER IS FREED

Invalid, Threatened, Shot and Killed Her Husband.

Mrs. Ida Keller, 28 years old, who shot and killed her husband, August H. Keller, in their home at 623 Allen avenue, last Sunday, was released by the police yesterday when the grand jury declined to indict her. She went to the home of her father, Joseph Bauer, at 1584 South Broadway.

Mrs. Keller said her husband rushed at her with a butcher knife, when she shot him. A coroner's jury Tuesday returned a verdict in which they found the woman had fired in self-defense. Mrs. Keller is an invalid. She attended the funeral of her husband yesterday in the custody of an officer.

ONE-EYED WINSTON was a negro preacher in Virginia, and his ideas of theology and human nature were often very original. A gentleman thus accosted the old preacher one Sunday: "Winston, I understand you believe every woman has seven devils. Now, how can you prove it?" "Well, sah, did you eber read in de bible how de seven devils were cast outter Mary Magdalene?" "Oh, yes, I've heard of that." "Did you eber hear of 'em being cast outter any other woman, sah?" "No, I never did." "Well, den, de udders all got 'em yet."

No "Doggy" References

A GENTLEMAN, while staying in an English village, was asked to give an address at the weekly meeting of the local Mutual Improvement Society. He promised to do his best, and on the night of the meeting, a good number of the villagers honored him with their presence. His lecture was entitled "The Men One Meets," and he began by humorous referring to "The Mean Man," "The Ultra-Jovial Man," "The Horsey Man," "The Dogmatic Man," etc. At this point two or three members of the audience appeared to be somewhat perturbed, and some whispering among them was quickly followed by a penciled note being handed to the lecturer. It read as follows:

"Dear Sir: Excuse the liberty, but you'll oblige by not sayin' too much about dogs. The gentleman what's takin' the chair was had up some time ago for keepin' one without a license, and as he subscribes a guinea a year to our society, we shouldn't like him to think you meant anything personal." The dogmatic man was not again referred to.

MY son was voted the most popular young man in his class. He graduated soon. "Popular, eh?" Then you won't get much work out of him for the next two years. Most of his time will be taken up in acting as best man, coaching various teams and boosting glee club tours."

Satisfying Reading.

SOME time ago Representative Howard of Georgia sent out some copies of eulogies which had been delivered in Congress on members who had died. A short time later he received a letter from a constituent, making the following request: "Please send me some more of them eulogies. I just love to read about dead Congressmen."
